

I am against this. Home recording for personal use has not and will not interfere with the entertainment's ability to make a profit.